

MEDICARE INELIGIBLE PATIENTS

Peter Mac
Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre
Victoria Australia

Peter Mac is a public health, specialist cancer centre in Melbourne. We treat public patients as well as some who do not meet public health criteria (known as Medicare Ineligible). If you think you do not meet the public health criteria, it is important to read and understand the following information.

Who can get treatment and care at Peter Mac?

Peter Mac treats all patients holding a current Australian Medicare card. This treatment is offered as a public patient.

We also treat patients that may be:

- From countries that have a reciprocal health care agreement (this is a shared agreement between two countries)
- Refugees and asylum seekers
- Some Medicare ineligible patients (those without an Australian Medicare card).

It is important to note:

- Our treatment and care is always given to Australian residents first.
- There are no guarantees (promises) that we will accept Medicare ineligible patients.

What does it mean to be Medicare ineligible?

If you are not an Australian resident and/or do not hold a Medicare card, you are a Medicare ineligible person. Such persons include but is not limited to:

- International students
- Overseas visitors
- Temporary entrants or temporary visa holders.

What is the process to assess overseas patients?

It is important you read and understand the following 3 step process if you are thinking of coming to Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre from overseas.

The 3 step process for Medicare ineligible patients

Step 1

Send all of the following information to Peter Mac:

- Your full medical history in English.
- A summary from your treating doctor, hospital or treatment centre.
- All past and/or future planned cancer treatments.
- Your diagnostic images (such as scans and x-rays) with full reports.
- Your pathology results (blood and biopsy reports).

Step 2

When we receive all the documents as listed in Step 1, we will:

- Review the information you sent to us.
- Decide if we are able to offer you the services you need.
- Contact you and let you know our decision.
- If we offer an appointment, you will need to decide whether to accept.
- If you accept, we will give you a quote that explains the cost for this initial (first) appointment.
- If you accept, you must pay for the first consultation up-front, before your first appointment.
- If you accept, you must ensure you have a valid visa to enter Australia.

Step 3

After your up-front payment has been received, we will advise you of a date and time for your first appointment.

At this appointment we will review your medical situation and discuss the next steps for your treatment.

If you agree, we will:

- Send you a detailed letter explaining your treatment plan
- Give you a quote for the treatment plan
- Ask that you pay for your treatment up-front, before starting treatment.
- Ask if you have international or private health insurance. If you do, we will ask for the details so we can do an insurance and policy check.

“It is your responsibility to ensure that you have health insurance cover or adequate money to cover the cost of your health care.”

How to make payment

Overseas patients can pay for both the review and treatment quote by:

- Direct deposit
- International money transfer
